

Learning Styles Activities

What kinds of activities does your child like to do in their free time?

Do they correspond with their learning style preferences?

Which of these learning activities do you think your child would enjoy?

Can you think of any others I should add to the list?

Can you think of a parenting struggle that might be caused by a learning style mismatch?